Creating Home: The New Quality of Life Revisions to LTC Surveyor Guidance

A Webinar Series for AAHSA Members on June 10 and 17
The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) has recently issued a new survey and certification letter that revises guidance to surveyors for several requirements related to quality of life and environment. As a result, surveys after June 17, 2009 will be conducted with a sharpened focus on elements of quality of life. These revisions were developed from last year's symposium on person-centered living environments, co-sponsored by CMS and Pioneer Network.
