Aging Services of Georgia Office
Broyles Auditorium at North Avenue Presbyterian Church

Activity Professionals Conference

Wednesday, September 22, 2010; 9:00am - 4:00pm

Kim McRae

Kim comes to Culture Change and person-centered living through an 11 year history as a family caregiver and a consumer of aging services. Experiencing first-hand the system as it is, and wanting better for her mother Barbara, who had Lewy Body dementia, Kim has been studying long-term care and dementia care in depth for more than eight years. Together with a B.A. in Journalism/Advertising from The University of NC at Chapel Hill; a background in consumer marketing, PR and advertising; and a deep desire to help others, Kim has become a "FCTA" (Family Caregiver Turned Advocate).

She is serving on the Marketing and Communications Committee and the National Coalitions Committee of the Pioneer Network. She is a member of the national Assisted Living Disclosure Collaborative. She is on the board of directors of the Consumer Consortium on Assisted Living. She is the co-founder and coordinator of the Culture Change Network of Georgia.

Mary Arthur

Mary has worked for more than 30 years in health care, with her focus in the field of aging. She is a Partner of MissionWorks Consulting and the Director of Senior Living Initiatives for Visiting Nurse | Hospice Atlanta, the largest nonprofit geriatric care management, home health and hospice provider in Georgia. Through her career, Mary has been a chief operating officer, an executive director, a licensed nursing home administrator, trainer, consultant, speaker, and advocate.

She believes strongly that people who work in the aging services field in any capacity do so because they want to make a difference in people's lives. Her career has been devoted primarily to working with nonprofit organizations whose culture, mission, and core values recognize and value this in their employees. Mary earned a BA in religion from Queens College in 1973 and a master's degree in social work from the University of Georgia in 1977.

Who Should Attend this Important Training Event

Those who would like to network and share ideas with others involved in developing and carrying out activities in setting and those who want to learn more about creating meaningful activities in their organization. You will be brought up-to-date on the Georgia Assisted Living regulations.
